Alpha for Information Technology industry

Alpha serves as a vendor partner for IT companies to translate the contents – including Websites, Software Applications, Mobile Applications, Software Requirement Specification (SRS), Client Requirements, Technical Manuals, RFP, RFI & much more in all of our served languages. Over the years, we have worked with Enterprise software firms, Consumer software firms, Telecom services, Datacenters and Mobile devices.

Alpha's promise

We help IT Clients when reaching out to Non-English markets, to localize all their information to that of the target customers. In one of the instances, helped a Client in localizing their healthcare application to their Arab audience in Kuwait, which facilitates patient appointments with doctors & hospitals.

Information Technologies have become integral part of our daily lives, which is fast moving, constantly changing, thereby urging technology companies to rapidly tailor their products & supporting materials for global distribution as global customers demand product & services in their own language. To outsmart and be top of the game, you need to engage with a translation company experienced in IT translation services.

About Alpha

Alpha provides a range of customized, affordable translation and localization services to suit your multilingual needs. Alpha has the experience to successfully manage projects of all scopes, from a basic translation to multilingual complex localization.
